In the distant future, a remote colony of Earth's stranded descendants settled on a remote star. The colony ship is fast approaching the very edge of the star's tremendous gravitational field. As the ship enters, the planet's gravity is deflected by the planet's mass, causing the world to collapse in on itself. As the stars arches fall into the planet's surface, the moon-sized world is crushed to form a mighty moon that orbits the world. A gap is formed between the moon and the planet, filled with a rich atmosphere and a surface full of wonders. The Tides of Farronel is a visually stunning new game, with all your favorite roguelike elements incorporated into a smooth, high quality narrative game. Your destiny lies on a distant planet: You're on a mission to solve the riddle of the mission on a distant planet. But even after spending several weeks of arduous exploration, you have yet to find the answer. The universe is a mysterious place, the planet is vast and mysterious, and your mission is filled with bounty. Best of all, the planet is full of secrets waiting to be uncovered. But in order to find the solution to your riddle, you must navigate the planet's terrain and interact with its inhabitants. Explore the planet's vast surface: The planets surface is filled with not just life, but also danger. Explore for loot. Explore for answers. Explore for trouble. You're moving as quickly as you can to reach your destination, but you also need to take care to not be seen. You don't want to get detected by the kingdom's army of guards. And even though exploring the planet is dangerous, if you make it to the end of the planet, you will find a mysterious artifact which will yield the information you seek. NPCs - The Treasures of the Planet You may have noticed the inhabitants of the planet. They aren't working for the kingdom. The kingdom's army of guards is not prevalent. Rather, you will find that the planet is split into two factions. The kingdom controls the kingdoms, while the rebels control the planets population. The people of the planet are not content to live in either of the

If you like the old R-Type series, you're going to love Rigid Force Alpha. Gameplay Description: As in the classic R-Type series, your mission is to destroy waves of enemy fighters. Your goal is to reach the bottom of the screen, and you travel to the bottom of the screen in real time. You also carry a large laser cannon that acts as your primary weapon, and as you move down, you'll use it to destroy enemies. You can also use the cannon to shoot up at enemies, and there are special power ups that can be collected and used to help you. You gain powerups by defeating enemies and it is much harder to lose health when you are powered up. Gameplay controls: B - Shoot, move, shoot. A - Move left, move right, move. Triangle - Shoot left. X - Shoot right. Circle - Jump. . - Toggle quick shot. Directional Arrow Keys - Move Z - Jump X - Shoot Gameplay Difficulty: There are 2 difficulty modes, Classic and Tough. On Classic, you play the game as your Powerups do not decrease in level, you will only get stronger as you play. However, on Tough mode, the levels gradually decrease in level and your powerups level down too. The difficulty does not increase, so if you find the game hard on Tough, you can just switch to Classic and it will be easier. Gameplay Flow: Gameplay is straight forward, you just hold down square to move forwards, then hold down the other directional keys to shoot, then hold down the shoot button to fire. To jump, hold down circle or down on the d-pad. While jumping, there is no real jump command, so it's all about timing. Jump too soon, and you will die (literally) because you'll usually only have a limited amount of life. Gameplay Settings: Crouch - Hold A Air - Fire your laser cannon Laser - Fire your laser cannon Default - Fire your laser cannon Laser - Fire laser, fire from the ground Laser - Fire laser, can jump up and shoot down Laser - Fire laser, no jumping [E] - Speed up [D] - Slow down [Space] - Restart [ ]
